

A Brief History of World War II

Chapter 1: The Rise and Outbreak

1.1 The Seeds of Conflict

After World War I, economic hardship and nationalism fueled the rise of dictators like Hitler, Mussolini, and militarists in Japan.

1.2 War Begins

Germany invaded Poland in 1939, prompting Britain and France to declare war, igniting a global conflict.

Chapter 2: Global Struggle and Victory

2.1 Turning Points

The Soviet victory at Stalingrad and Allied landings in Normandy (D-Day) marked major shifts against the Axis powers.

2.2 The End of War

Germany surrendered in May 1945; Japan followed after atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, ending the war.
